

Course Syllabus

Course Name:

Post-Flooding Considerations and Mold 2 hours

Course Description:

This course includes considerations for handling post-flooding problems along with information on mold and the importance of both timely cleanup and developing and documenting your own plan of action.

The Florida Building Code does not address post-flooding concerns; however, the prudent professional will have a plan in place. The ultimate objective of this course is for the building professional to develop their own plan, using the resources and references provided in conjunction with their employees and their insurance and lawyer representatives.

Evaluation Method:

Students will be offered opportunity to provide oral and written questions and comments to facilitate course and instructional improvement.
